ALL CHURCHES ARE READY FOR EASTER'S FETE

Adams county churches were ready today to celebrate the anniversary of Christ's resurrection on Easter Sunday with special services starting at dawn in at least two communities with special music, confirmation of new members, observance of the sacrament of Holy Communion and other special plans arranged for morning, afternoon or evening services in places of worship throughout the county.

An Easter Dawn service will be conducted at 6 o'clock Sunday morning on the Gettysburg high school athletic field with the Rev. Luther W. Silfer, returned missionary from India, as the speaker. In event of bad weather the service will be conducted at St. James Lutheran church. Ministers and musicians from several sections of the county have been assigned parts in the service.

Another dawn service has been announced for the same hour in the Bendersville Lutheran church with Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, member of the faculty of the Lutheran Theological seminary, as the speaker. The Rev. George W. Harrison, Bendersville Methodist pastor, will have charge of devotions while special music will be provided by members of the choirs of the two churches.

Special masses have been announced in the Catholic churches of the county while all churches have made special plans for observance of the most important day in the church calendar.

Sunday's programs will climax Lenten activities and preparatory services conducted throughout this week in many churches — and throughout the entire Lenten season in others. Good Friday marked the close of most of the preparatory exercises and local Protestants gathered Friday afternoon in Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church here to hear a sermon by Dr. Henry I. Stahr, president of Hood college at Frederick. An organ and violin recital preceded the service which was marked by special Holy Week music.

Noon today marked the end of Lent which opened on Ash Wednesday, March 10.

Big Demand for Flowers
There apparently was no serious shortage of Easter flowers in Gettysburg today and only those who waited until this afternoon or this evening to place their orders were in danger of finding supplies exhausted.

Although florists are not able to supply most bulbous flowers, such as hyacinths, lilies and tulips in large quantities since the war began, other types of blooms were in good supply and their preparation for sale was limited only by the effects of a labor shortage in the florist industry which has been rated as non-essential.

The Wayside flower shop here reported an abnormally high demand for flowers this year and explained it by pointing out that many persons who used to give chocolate candies at Easter find it necessary to find another type of gift to convey their greetings.

Easter Outfits
With more people than ever away from their homes this season, the telegraph business is heavier than normal with a large percentage of its volume made up of incoming orders from men in the service for flowers for the folks at home. Army exchange service handles the orders for the boys in the service.

If the sun shines Easter morning, it will give the ladies their first real opportunity of the spring to display their spring finery. To date chilly breezes and showers have kept most spring clothes on their hangers awaiting more seasonable weather.

York Springs Man Is Hurt In Crash

Merl K. Huff, 42, York Springs, is a patient in the Carlisle hospital with lacerations of the face and a possible fracture of the right leg following a head-on collision between his car and a truck five and a half miles north of York Springs on the Harrisburg road this morning about 3:55 o'clock.

Henry Moe, 30, Baltimore, driver of the truck, escaped injury but damage to the two vehicles was estimated at about $900. Private Anthony Martin of the Gettysburg detail of the state motor police, who investigated, said Huff's car was demolished.

No charges have been laid.

Richard C. Warren To Manage Garages

Richard C. Warren, son of the late J. M. Warren, of Arendtsville, proprietor of garages in Arendtsville and Gettysburg who died suddenly last week, has become manager of the two business places.

In a display advertisement appearing in today's edition of The Gettysburg Times Mr. Warren announces that the business will continue to operate under the same policy as prevailed prior to the death of the elder Warren.

$30,600 BOND SALES DURING 2ND APRIL WEEK

Sales of Series "E" war bonds during the second quarter of April totaled $30,600, Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the county committee, was advised today by the Third Federal Reserve district.

"It is a splendid showing for the second quarter of April," Mr. Thomas said, "and I'm sure all members of the committee will be pleased to learn of this generous response."

"For in the Second War Loan our good people have a splendid way to answer the Japs for their cruel and barbarous execution of our American fliers who were captured by the Japs after bombing Tokyo. Such flagrant violations of all sense of decency and open flaunting of international law can be best answered by our purchases of war bonds. After all it is our best investment and will hasten the ultimate Allied peace."

Sales by Districts
The sales by districts during the second quarter are reported as follows:

FRUIT GROWERS MEET TUESDAY

Methods of conserving spray materials, manpower and spray equipment while at the same time producing clean, high quality fruit and more of it than ever before, will be among the problems discussed by the Adams county fruit growers at a meeting Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the Biglerville auditorium.

Carroll R. Miller, Appalachian Apple Service member and president of the National Peach council who will present a report of the general fruit picture; J. O. Pepper, extension entomologist and G. L. Zundel, extension plant pathologist, will be among the speakers. The two extension men will discuss the orchard insect and disease situation.

Growers will be asked to report their experiences under various systems of orchard management in order to give the members a better idea of how to meet the government quota despite the restrictions on sprays and manpower, according to an announcement by George Schriver, secretary-treasurer of the county fruit growers association.

Tokyo Raid Through Japanese Eyes

This photo, copied from the Japanese newspaper Yomiuri of April 19, 1942, is described as showing action during the U.S. air raid on Tokyo April 18 last year. Japanese caption says "The enemy (is) running away because of the anti-aircraft fire." A copy of the newspaper was obtained recently by the magazine Newsweek, which said it had been smuggled out of Japan.

Young Preachers Study Records Of Own Sermons

Prospective preachers at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary are given an opportunity to "hear themselves as others hear them" through the use of sound recording equipment which has been installed in the new chapel and the lecture room.

"The instrument holds excellent possibilities for the future rendition of the Service and delivery of sermons," the May issue of the Seminary Bulletin observes in an article describing the sound equipment which was placed in use for the first time during the current academic year.

The article follows in part: "Sound equipment installed in the Chapel is connected with a recording instrument in the lecture room, and records are made of sermons and Scripture readings as a part of the courses in public speaking. One advantage of the type of installation is that the microphones are so placed on pulpit, altar and lectern that they are not obviously within view of the speaker; and with the recording instrument wholly out of sight the speaker is not made self-conscious by any visible mechanism. The recording is thus likely to be more true and natural."

Can Study Defects
"In the junior year recordings are made of selected portions of the Service and passages of Scripture. These are then played back for the class so that errors of pitch, inflection, pronunciation may be pointed out. The student then receives his own record and can study it at his leisure to note his own faults and correct them."

"Many faults of speech, unnoticed by the speaker, are discovered in this way. This work is done at the beginning of the year, so that from the start of his course the student

FIRST RHUBARB AT LOCAL MART

Colored eggs sold for 40 to 50 cents a dozen at the Easter session of the Farmers' market here this morning while at one stall colored eggs dressed up as dolls brought 10 cents each.

There were bluebells, yellow Easter lilies and daffodils on sale at five to 25 cents a bunch.

The first rhubarb of the season appeared at 10 cents a bunch. Dandelion could be had at 10 cents a box while water cress sold for eight and 15 cents per box.

Stating that their prices for all types of dressed chickens are below fixed OPA poultry ceilings and "lower than at any market in other towns and cities in this part of the country," farmers charged from 50 to 60 cents a pound for dressed poultry. The farmers said their latest information on dressed poultry ceilings—on the basis of newspaper clippings possessed by several of the group—range from 52 to 65 cents per pound.

Top price for storage apples continued at $3 per bushel while the same figure was being asked for potatoes.

Littlestown Man Is Seminary Senior

Leroy Blair, Littlestown, will be one of a class of 17 young ministers to be awarded the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Theology at the sixtieth annual commencement of the Westminster Theological seminary at Westminster, Md., May 3.

The exercises will take place in the Methodist church in Westminster and the baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Charles Edward Forlines, acting president of the seminary. He will award the degrees and diplomas.

SCRIBE FINDS RELIGION AS WAR ESSENTIAL

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

About ten days ago I recorded in this column a growing demand for more spiritual and moral guidance in helping win the war and I cited the declaration by United States Senator Harry S. Truman (Dem-Mo) that there is need for "a fighting faith."

Tomorrow being Easter this seemed like a good time to make a report on the reaction to that article. Letters from as far away as California have been arriving at my desk and all of them, with one exception, agreed with the general thesis.

The exception was a friendly and cleverly phrased epistle from a chap in Minnesota. He put up a stiff battle, the gist of it being: "Religion and its part in victory—phooey! * * * The value of religion in war is debatable. * * * To the Russians, and to other millions who are not Russians, it is of no great moment. There is as much cussing as praying in the foxholes."

Red Churches Crowded
Well, Scott, I like a man who speaks his mind, and you sure talk right up in meetin'. I'm not going to argue the point with you, because my business is analysis and not debating or yet preaching. However, despite your skepticism on religion in war, it's interesting to see you, along with the rest, writing me a letter about it. This can only mean that religion has a news interest for readers, and that's why I deal with it in this column the same as with other categories of news.

Apropos of the remark about religion being of no great moment to Russians, The Associated Press the other day carried a little dispatch saying that the 26 Greek Orthodox churches of Moscow open for Palm Sunday were crowded to a degree that their members said was unknown since before the Bolshevik revolution. Throngs even blocked traffic before some churches. Numerous Red Army men, sailors and airmen were among the churchgoers.

What's the meaning of that? Apparently it supports what I've been saying—that a spiritual and moral wave is running through many countries. Religion still has plenty of meaning to a host of Russians, and they show it when the church doors are open.

Religious Comfort
Speaking of religion in the foxholes, Captain William E. Taggart, Army Air Force chaplain, stated recently at a meeting of religious leaders in New York that the war has rekindled a desire for religion in the hearts of American soldiers in the combat areas. He said:

"They need a religion which they can use in the fox-holes, in cockpits, in jungles or on rubber rafts. They are asking for the comfort of a religion which will help them to conquer fear and to withstand the test of seeing buddies killed."

In other words, the boys feel the (Please Turn to Page 2)

Married Men To Be Called In May

Adams county's first large contingent of married men will be called to the colors in May, it was revealed by the county's two selective service boards.

Expectations that the quota from Draft Board No. 2 at Gettysburg would be made up mostly of married men with no children have been found to be true with the sending this week of notices to the inductees scheduled to report for their physical examination at Harrisburg early in May. New Oxford board, however, has been able to find most of its draftees from among unmarried youths and older men, it was stated.

The call for May is smaller than some in previous months, the boards said. It is expected by both boards that the June call will be made up mostly from married men.

Allies Pushing Ahead Despite Boche Defenses

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, April 24 (AP)—American troops, transferred from the southern Tunisian front to the north, have advanced six miles toward Mateur, 18 miles southwest of Bizerte, and the British First army has taken Long Stop Hill, 28 miles west of Tunis, dispatches from the front said today.

Another U. S. unit hacked its way for seven miles through stiff enemy fire northeast of Beja and to the north of the Beja-Mateur road, fighting its way hill by hill.

First Army Advances

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, April 24 (AP)—The British First army has made "a considerable advance on the whole front" between Bou Arada and Medjez-el-Bab despite bitter and strong enemy counterattacks which cost the enemy heavily, a communique from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced today.

"North of Sebket El Kourzia armored fighting took place. The enemy was forced to withdraw and a number of his tanks were destroyed," the communique continued.

"In the northern sector American troops made successful attacks, capturing more than 100 prisoners. In several areas advances of many miles were made in difficult hill country."

Dozen Spotters To Get Armbands

Observers who have completed 25 hours of duty at the observation station on the roof of the First National Bank building will receive arm bands at a meeting of the post staff to be held Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the court house.

The official Army insignia given all spotters when they have served the required number of hours will go to about a dozen spotters who have been serving several tricks a week since the establishment of the post, it was stated by W. J. Stallsmith, chief observer.

The staff will also select ushers and ticket sellers for the musical comedy by Pratt Studio, Hanover, at the Majestic theatre, May 2, for the benefit of the post.

LICENSED TO WED

A marriage license has been issued at the court house to Donald Charles Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Price, McSherrystown, and Miss Madeline E. Mathias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mathias, Hanover.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Coover, Steinwehr avenue, announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner hospital Friday.

A son was born Friday at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sanders, 21 Breckenridge street.

COUNTY MARINE
AWARDED MEDAL
FOR ACTION ON GUADALCANAL

The courage and leadership of an Adams county Marine officer on Guadalcanal has won for him the Silver Star medal and a special citation from the commander of the south Pacific area in the name of the President of the United States.

The Marine who received the honor, first of its kind to be bestowed upon an Adams countian in World War II, is Second Lieutenant Thomas F. Maitland, 24, Littlestown. The action upon which the award was based "turned a disaster into an action in which the United States Marines seized the initiative," the citation sets forth.

Lieutenant Maitland, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Maitland, West King street, Littlestown, displayed conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action against the enemy on Guadalcanal, British Solomon islands from November 4 to December 4, 1942. It is revealed by the citation accompanying his medal. The citation is signed by Rear Admiral T. S. Wilkinson, United States Navy deputy commander of the south Pacific area, and was issued from the headquarters of the commander, South Pacific Force of the United States fleet.

Sent Jap Flags

On November 11 last, Lieutenant Maitland commanded a platoon acting as a point, the citation discloses. When contact was made with a superior force of the Japanese, his disposition of the point, and his subsequent employment of his platoon, enabling him to inflict great damage on the enemy with small loss to his own force.

"By his excellent judgment, high courage and inspiring leadership," the citation states, "he extricated the company from a dangerous situation and turned a disaster into an action in which the Marines seized the initiative. His conduct was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States naval service."

Lt. Thomas Maitland was graduated from Littlestown high school in 1937 and in August of that year enlisted in the Marine Corps. He re-enlisted on December 28, 1941, and was given his former rating of sergeant. He was later promoted to gunnery sergeant, and more recently, while on foreign duty, was elevated to second lieutenant.

Three Maitland Marines

Sometime ago, Lieutenant Maitland sent home two Japanese flags which had been captured on Guadalcanal. One of these is being displayed in a Baltimore plant, where his father is employed, to stimulate interest in the war bond drive. The Silver Star medal and the citation were received by Mr. and Mrs. Maitland from their son this week.

Lieutenant Maitland is one of two sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Maitland serving in the Marine Corps. His younger brother, Calvin, is in Hawaii. Before Pearl Harbor both boys were in the same company and were stationed in Hawaii. Calvin Maitland has served three years of a four-year enlistment. Russell Maitland, brother of the two Marines, served a four-year enlistment in the Marine Corps from March 18, 1937, to 1941.

SCRIBES FIND

need of a practical religion. After all, whatever you think of religion, it can't be claimed that there's very much comfort in atheism.

While we're on the subject of our boys' needs at the front there's a matter I want to report. It hasn't to do with religion but it's mighty close to it, for it relates to letters from home. On my recent trip in the war theatres I found that the morale of our troops is in exact ratio to the frequency of these letters. If mails don't arrive, morale slumps way down.

"Write Often"

I was sitting in the quarters of a couple of young Yankee captains at one of our headquarters in the Middle East. A limited mail arrived, and one of the boys got five letters while the other got none. The lucky fellow immediately plunged into his treasures, and the other started to pace the little room. I was completely out of the picture but I watched developments with interest. Finally the letterless lad stopped in front of his friend and said:

"Let me read one of your letters, will you, Bob?"

Bob promptly handed up one, and the distress immediately disappeared from the face of the other.

Moral: Don't forget to write often.

Fraternity Goes
Out Of Business

Lewisburg, Pa., April 24 (AP)—The Bucknell university chapter of the Sigma Epsilon fraternity has auctioned off its furniture, kitchenware, athletic equipment—and Pido's tombstone.

The fraternity was forced to close because more than two-thirds of its members are in the armed services. The tombstone, given by an alumnus in the tombstone business but never prected, brought $125.

ASKS BOOST IN PRICE OF OIL

Bradford, Pa., April 24 (AP)—Bradford oilmen disclosed Governor Edward Martin has joined in the campaign to obtain increased prices for crude oil.

The governor sent word he has filed a brief with the Patman House committee on small business, recommending an immediate boost of 50 cents a barrel as a further incentive for finding new oil fields and developing the old ones.

Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Tokes last week also recommended to the committee that crude oil prices be raised.

"The sorriest sight to any soldier is a combat car with an empty gas tank," Governor Martin stated. "Any army without oil is a defeated army. A navy without oil is a useless navy. This war is being fought with oil and for oil."

Martin said reserves of new fields dropped in 1942 and that the nation rapidly is drawing on its reserves, which must be taken into serious consideration by industry and the government.

"There is but one way to stimulate oil production," he said. "That is by increasing the price."

Martin praised the Pennsylvania Senate for passing, without a dissenting vote, a recommendation for an increase of 50 cents a barrel, terming that a "commendable move and one absolutely non-partisan."

Fight Extradition
Of Negro Prisoner

Sharon, Pa., April 24 (AP)—A Luzerne county common pleas judge has joined District Attorney Leon Schwartz in opposing the extradition of Eddie Marshall Burwell, Wilkes-Barre negro, to North Carolina, where he is wanted for first degree burglary a capital offense in that state.

Judge Thomas F. Farrell refused custody of Burwell to two North Carolina deputy sheriffs despite presentation of extradition warrants signed by the Governor of that state and Governor Martin of Pennsylvania.

Schwartz, presenting the warrants, said, "our prosecuting methods must not lead us into methods employed by powers we are now fighting."

FINLAND FACES
NEW CRISIS IN WAR STRATEGY

By WADE WERNER

Washington, April 24 (AP)—The threat of a Nazi coup in Finland, inspired by Hitler's growing fears for his "European fortress" and designed to set up a 100 per cent pro-Axis government, was seen in diplomatic quarters here today as one of the factors behind Helsinki's newest crisis.

And it was expected to force a final showdown in the little nation's strange war triangle.

Latest move in the long-standing three-cornered crisis came yesterday when most of the American legation staff suddenly left the Finnish capital and a strict censorship was promptly clamped on all political dispatches out of Finland.

U. S. Is Silent

There has been no American minister in Finland since H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld was recalled to Washington last December, and the exodus left behind in Helsinki only charge d'affaires Robert Mills McClintock and one clerk.

The State department described the move as "administrative," and declined to throw further light on it; but the capital watched closely to see what bearing it might have on the question whether Finland is to tie up still more closely to Germany or attempt to separate herself from Hitler's war against Russia.

It was seen in some quarters here and abroad as another American move in a "war of nerves" aimed at prying Finland loose from her Nazi associates. Another view, however, was that mounting Nazi pressure and the menace of a German-inspired coup called for precautionary evacuation of all but a skeleton legation staff. It was recalled that about 150 Americans, diplomats and others, fell into German hands when the Wehrmacht occupied all of France last November and the Vichy government broke relations with the United States.

Crisis Nears

Looked at from the point of view of German strategy, Finland's situation seemed an integral part of the crisis facing Hitler's "fortress of Europe."

So long as an Allied invasion of the continent seemed only a very distant danger, Hitler could afford to allow Finland the luxury of strictly limited participation in the war—joint military operations with Germany against the Soviet Union, but continued isolation from Germany's war against the United States.

Now, however, the threat of invasion is imminent. Allied forces might strike at any point on the periphery of Europe—might even strike from the north through Finland.

For almost two years the little republic has managed to wage war against Russia without cutting herself completely off from the United States—but now the end seems near.

York Springs Lions
Arrange Egg Hunt

An Easter egg hunt will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the high school campus under the sponsorship of the York Springs Lions club. Children of York Springs and vicinity have been invited to participate.

The York Springs high school Alumni banquet will be held in the Community fire hall in York Springs, this evening. The largest attendance in the history of the organization is expected. Included on the program will be the dinner at 7 p. m., presentation of the Service flag, an address by the Rev. Earl N. Rowe, and a Victory Circus novelty program directed by Daniel Harlaecher.

The York Springs high school glee club will present an Easter Cantata in the York Springs Lutheran church on Sunday at 8 p. m. The cantata is entitled, "The Glorious Gallilean." It is an Easter cantata for mixed voices, written by Ira B. Wilson. Solo parts will be taken by Byrl Potts, Virginia Fair, Joan Starry, Anna Jean Hershey, Dorothy Brame, Clair Gardner, Clifford Snyder and Everett Weiser. Piano accompanists will be Clifford Snyder and Virginia Fair. The director is Dale H. Roth.

Upper Communities

The senior class of Biglerville will sponsor a play called "Ever Since Eve," a comedy, by Florence Rye-son and Colin Clements, next Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium in Biglerville.

Miss Dorothy Sternat, a student at Susquehanna university, Selinsgrove, is spending the Easter week-end with her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Sternat, Biglerville.

The Ladies' Bible class of Bethlehem Lutheran Sunday school, Bensenville, met this week with Mrs. Harvey Quigle with 20 members present. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Annie Bucher.

An Easter program, the feature of which will be a drama, "Beauty Does Not Die," will be presented at the Wenksville Lutheran church Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

The children of the Primary department of St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday school, Biglerville, were entertained at an Easter egg hunt Friday afternoon in the Heiges' meadow by their teachers, Mrs. Ernest Smith and Mrs. Raymond Ellicker.

MOTORISTS IN SPECIAL CLASS
TO GET TIRES

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Millions of motorists will become eligible for top grade tires May 1, an Office of Price Administration announcement disclosed today—coincident with the news that manufacture of "Victory tires" from reclaimed rubber has been stopped.

The OPA statement said every motorist with gasoline rations for more than 240 miles a month may buy Grade I tires a week from today.

All B-bookholders—except those in the Eastern seaboard area where rations have been cut—will thus be eligible, whereas previously a mileage ration of 560 a month had been required for the top tires, and those with 240-to-560 mileage rations got grades IIs. In the east the value of the basic A ration coupons has been cut, through extension of the time they must last, from three to 1½ gallons a week.

No "Victory Tires"

Simultaneously, Rubber Director William Jeffers' office confirmed that production of the "Victory tires" was halted March 31, although no previous announcement was made. News of the action came just as Jeffers was in the midst of a squabble with military officials over whether the synthetic rubber program has retarded production of aviation gasoline.

The decision to make Grade I tires more widely available was based, OPA said, on information from Jeffers that supplies of Grade II tires are "inadequate to meet requirements of motorists eligible for them." It added that comparatively more Grade I tires are available in relation to those eligible for them.

Motorists who drive less than 240 miles a month must remain content with retreads and recaps, but half of the "Victory tire" production is expected to aid them. A spokesman in Jeffers' office said the reclaimed rubber will be diverted into recaps or retreads where, he said, it will go about two and one-half times as far.

"Farm Or Fight"
Farmers Are Told

Pittsburgh, April 24 (AP)—Former farmers now in class 4-F, who are aged between 18 and 44 and those from 38 to 44 not now in essential jobs will be directed to "farm or fight," the Allegheny county war board announced.

Charles P. Shenot, chairman, said letters will be sent to these men next week directing them to go to work on dairy farms within 30 days or face induction into the Army.

County war boards were authorized to take such action by the national Selective Service headquarters, but only in areas where "acute shortages of dairy farm workers" exist.

Shenot said a survey disclosed such a shortage does exist in Allegheny and surrounding counties.

Trenton Senators
Get New Manager

Greensboro, N. C., April 24 (AP)—The Trenton Senators of the Class B Inter-State Baseball league had a new manager today in George Ferrell, veteran minor league player and pilot.

He departed last night from his home here for New Jersey to take over spring training drills already underway.

As player-manager of Rocky Mount in the Bi-State league last year, Ferrell batted .314, hit 22 home runs and drove in 105 tallies to lead the league in that department. He was declared a free agent by Judge Landis earlier this week. Terms of his contract were not disclosed.

Mrs. Nelson Shaulis, is spending the week at Grove City with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Huep, while Mr. Shaulis is visiting the Erie fruit research laboratory.

Miss Myrna Sheely, a member of the faculty of the Ardmore high school, is spending the Easter week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Sheely, of Arendtsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Rice, of Biglerville, are spending the Easter week-end at Bath, New York, as guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Rice, Jr.

Miss Blanche Slaybaugh and Miss Thelma Slaybaugh, of Harrisburg, are spending the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Slaybaugh, of Biglerville.

Miss Emma Baer, of the Biglerville high school faculty, is spending the Easter recess at her home at Salunga.

Mrs. U. S. Kleinfelter, of Biglerville, is spending the week-end with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bream, of Chambersburg.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond M. Hale have been visiting Mrs. Hale's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson, Port Royal, this week. While away they attended the funeral of Dr. Hales brother-in-law, Kermit Hewes, at Osceola Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frederick and sons, Bert and John, are visiting in Morgantown, W. Va., over the week-end. Mrs. A. M. Frederick accompanied them as far as Fayette county where she will spend the week-end with relatives.

TWO TAX BILLS
ARE EXPECTED
TO CLASH MAY 3

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Barring last minute defections, a Democratic pay-as-you-go income tax bill will come out of the Ways and Means committee today—doomed to clash head-on in the House May 3 with the Republican-supported modified Ruml plan to skip a year.

The bill backed by the Democratic majority would apply the easier 1941 rates and exemptions to 1942 income, and raise 1943 collections on individual income taxes from $10,000,000,000 to over $13,000,000,000.

Some of its sponsors said it also would remove the prospect of further wartime increases in personal income rates.

Under its terms, taxes would be collected this year against the current 1943 income, and taxpayers would simultaneously settle one-third of their reduced 1942 bill. The measure would provide a 20 per cent withholding levy on wages and salaries, beginning July 1.

House Floor Battle

Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) has set May 3—and of the Easter holiday—for the beginning of the House floor battle.

The Republicans plan to offer the Ruml plan, as modified and included in a bill by Rep. Carlson (R-Kas.), as a substitute for the committee bill when debate opens. The Democrats defeated the skip-a-year proposal in the first floor fight three weeks ago, 215 to 198.

Whether the Democratic strength can be swung behind the committee bill is problematical, since a segment within the party has lined up behind a measure by Reps. Robertson (D-Va.) and Forand (D-R. I.). It would abate the 6 per cent normal and 13 per cent first bracket surtax on the 1942 income of all taxpayers.

However, some of its supporters indicated that if this plan failed they would go along with the Democratic leadership on the committee bill.

ALLIED FLYERS
SINK JAP SHIP

(By The Associated Press)

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today that Allied warplanes pounded five Japanese bases in the islands above Australia, carried off 13 strifing attacks on enemy troops in New Guinea, and sank an 8,000-ton ship in the Bismarck sea with a single bullseye hit with a 500-pound bomb.

The communique also disclosed that Allied vanguards wiped out a patrol of 20 Japanese troops within six airline miles of the big enemy base at Salamaua, New Guinea.

Apparently the attack was a hit-and-run raid, since the main Allied forces were last reported some 100 miles below Salamaua, although patrol fighting had been noted in the Mubo sector 12 miles below the enemy base.

Bullet Mile-Relay Team Places Second In Middle Atlantic At Penn Relays

MULES CAPTURE RACE IN SLOW TIME OF 3:28

Gettysburg college's track entry in the Middle Atlantic States one-mile relay event held Friday afternoon at the annual Penn Relays in Philadelphia placed second, being nosed out for top honors by the speedy Muhlenberg college quartet.

The mules, whose team included Bob Haldeman, James Ahern, Bob Price and Arthur Hill, won the event in the comparatively slow time of 3:28.

Running for Coach Beeson on Friday were Joe Powers, Mike Baden, George Motter and Wayne Bucher.

Lehigh set the pace for half a mile only to have Muhlenberg move into first place with the Bullets forcing the Engineers into the third spot.

St. Joseph's, Rutgers and Swarthmore finished behind the first three teams in that order.

Today the Bullet squad will take part in the College Class Mile. Gettysburg won the event last year in 3:23.3.

Listed as opponents for Gettysburg are Howard, Rutgers, CCNY, Baldwin Wallace, Virginia State college for negroes, Lafayette and Hampton Sidney.

By TED MEIER

Philadelphia, April 24 (AP)—

Notre Dame's four-mile relay quartet expects to set a new world's record of 17:16 or better in the Penn relays at Franklin Field today—if only the track is right.

"We have ambitions along that line," asserted Al Handy, coach of the Irish scanty-clads who romped off with two triumphs—the distance medley relay and the two-mile run—in yesterday's opening competition in the annual track extravaganza.

"If the track is okay," Handy said, "I believe the boys are ready and can do it. The track was slow Friday, but I think the overnight rolling will put it in better shape."

Record is 17:16.2

The present world and relay carnival record for the four mile is 17:16.2 established in 1937 by the Indiana University quartet of M. Trull, J. Smith, Thomas Deckard and Don Lash.

The Notre Dame four aiming to wipe out that mark is composed of Frank Conforti and Anthony Maloney, both of New York; William "Benny" Leonard, of Cleveland; and Ollie Hunter, of Erie, Pa. Conforti will run the first mile followed by Maloney, Leonard and Hunter.

"We've been gunning for this attempt all year," declared anchor man Hunter. "We figure an average 4:19 mile will do the trick."

Already this year, Hunter pointed out, Conforti has done a 4:15.7 mile, Maloney 4:17.2, Leonard 4:20.3 and himself 4:16—which adds up to a lightning 17:09.2.

To Attend Wedding

Immediately after the race, scheduled for 2:35 p. m. (EWT), the Irish squad will entrain for Long Island to attend the wedding of a former teammate, Ensign Johnny Herbert, and so will not compete in the two-mile college relay championship, listed for 4 p. m. against Michigan's favored team. The Wolverines, anchored by Bom Ufer, are unbeaten in the two-mile this season.

While Hunter's 4:24 anchor mile in the distance medley and his 9:12 in winning the two-mile combined to make yesterday's best individual performance, the Violets of New York university grabbed first in the quarter-mile relay, the 400-meter hurdles and the shotput. Michigan captured the sprint medley relay in 3:29.7.

Mercersburg (Pa.) academy again featured the prep school competition, winning the quarter-mile relay championship for the second straight year in 44.2.

Rip Collins To Play For Dormont

Pittsburgh, April 24 (AP)—The Dormont club of the greater Pittsburgh league is getting a former big league player in Bob (Rip) Collins, who decided not to return to Seattle in the Pacific Coast league this year but to remain on a defense factory job here.

Collins was with the Chicago Cubs for a time. Later he played with Hollywood and Seattle. He is a fireman on the Monongahela connecting railroad of the Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation.

British Prisoners Returned Home

A British West Coast Port, April 24 (AP)—A white ship marked with Red Crosses came out of the morning mist into this British port Friday, bringing more than 400 singing, laughing and weeping prisoners home from Italian prison camps on Good Friday.

The vessel was the Newfoundland, from Lisbon, where an exchange of British and Italian prisoners took place.

18 Schools Enter WPIAL Track Meet

Connellsville, Pa., April 24 (AP)—Teams from 18 schools, comprising almost 300 athletes, will participate this afternoon in the fifth annual relay carnival of the Western Pennsylvania Athletic league at Conellsville high school stadium.

Last year 25 schools and more than 500 athletes were entered. Six relays and running events and seven field events make up the program.

Teams entered are Aliquippa, Altoona, Brentwood, Bridgeville, Canonsburg, Clairton, Conellsville, Donora, Dormont, Greensburg, Latrobe, Mt. Lebanon, Mt. Pleasant, Sewickley, Turtle Creek, Uniontown, Washington and Waynesburg.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Philadelphia, April 24 (AP)—

The boys around Broad and Locust, Philadelphia's Bash boulevard, can't see those 2-1 odds favoring Beau Jack to retain his lightweight title against Bob Montgomery May 21.

They claim Montgomery has regained his old form since he had his tonsils yanked out and can pace himself better over the 15-round route. . . . What's in a name? One of Michigan's relay runners is Ernest Lombardi—and they say he can step a quarter in about the time it takes his baseball name-sake to get down to first base. . . . Jeanne Cline, the good looking Bloomington, Ill., gas golfer, broadcasts a sports program in her home town and hopes to land with one of the big New York stations.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "The press notices the new 'clunk' ball has been getting won't help business. We must get hold of the first foul that works its way up to the press box and look for the 'made in Japan' label."

FRANKLIN FIELD FILIBUSTER

Lawson Robertson, Penn track coach, still is snooping around under the Franklin Field stands hoping to find those eight vaulting poles he bought and hid away when he realized there would be a bamboo shortage. . . . George W. Orton, who ran for Penn in the first relays in 1895, failed to attend this year for the first time since then. He couldn't get away from his camp in New Hampshire, but sent word he'd be on hand for the 50th anniversary meet next April. . . . Frank Palermo, Gus Dorozi's manager, tells friends that he was talking on the long distance phone to Luke Carney, manager of Fritz Zivic, when Carney collapsed and died. . . . Judge Landis' official baseball guide probably will be on sale about May 1. . . . Add Temple's Ray Morrison to the list of football coaches who have added math teaching to their duties for the duration. He used to teach it at Southern Methodist and Vanderbilt.

M.P.—MEANING MORE POWER

At least two guys in the Army's Military Police dept. who can give extra use to the initials M.P.—there's Murray Patrick, the first big league hockey player to join the U.S. Army, who just graduated from the M.P. Officers' Candidate School at Fort Custer, Mich., and Clayton Heafner, the big Greensboro, N. C., golfer whose weight has shot up from 220 to 250 since he's been in the Army. . . . In this case M.P. means more pounds.

TEMPUS FUGIT, EM?

Times change and so do the Red Sox. . . . With no Ted Williams or Dom DiMaggio to do the hitting in Thursday's opener against the Athletics, Manager Joe Cronin resorted to strategy when Pete Fox doubled to open the fourth inning. . . . Instead of figuring that three hitters would be sure to bring him around, Joe immediately signalled to Bobby Doerr to sacrifice. . . . Well, it worked and Pete scored the only run of the game.

SERVICE DEPT.

Lieut. Benny Leonard of the Maritime Service is reported in line for promotion to Lieut. Commander soon. . . . Sergt. Frank Strafaci's regular playing partner in his once-a-week rounds of golf in Australia is Ferdie Catropa, former Long Island pro. . . . Lieut. George (Blitzkrieg) Barr, one of the Tokyo raiders who may have died proving that the Jap's haven't the guts to take what they dish out, was a member of the Northland college (Ashland, Wis.) basketball team and got his nickname because he was so hard to stop while Northland was winning 32 straight games in 1940. . . . Phil Rizzuto's minor league experience—or maybe his experiences with the jalloppy he drives around Norfolk—came in handy recently when there was no driver around to take a busload of naval training station players to the Norfolk ball park. Phil drove the bus and then drove in five runs.

YORK B. B. MANAGER

York, Pa., April 24 (AP)—John (Bunny) Griffith of Camden, New Jersey, whose appointment as playing manager of the York White Roses of the Inter-State Baseball league was announced last night, is expected to arrive tomorrow for pre-season training which opens Monday.

Dehydration in 1943 will take four times as many vegetables as in 1942 and most of this dehydrated food will go for Army and Lend-Lease needs.

Pirate Goes Into Air To Make Double Play

Ed Stanky (25), Chicago Cub second baseman, slides toward second too late to escape being forced out in the first inning of the Cubs' season's opener with the Pittsburgh Pirates while Huck Geary (4), Pirate shortstop, goes into the air to retire Heinz Becker, Chicago first baseman, for a double play. Geary, after landing on the ground, had to be carried from the field but was able to take his turn at bat a few minutes later. Pittsburgh won, 6 to 0.

MAJOR LEAGUES WILL SOON USE LIVELIER BALL

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

(The Associated Press)

Just a few hours before Easter the major league baseball players learned they would have a rabbit ball this season, after all.

The announcement that the official ball would be revitalized came yesterday before the Philadelphia Athletics blanked the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 0—the success by the lowly A's with the Gibraltar pellet surprising even the manufacturers but not influencing their decision.

The game, the only contest on the abbreviated Good Friday schedule, resulted in the eighth shutout in the 12 games played this spring. During that time there has been only one home run, in contrast to the six on opening day of 1942.

Ball Gets Hard

Lou Coleman, vice president of A. G. Spalding and Bros., said the present ball was dead because of the cement used to bind together the various layers of wool yarn and balata, wartime substitute for rubber.

The balata center is OK, he said, but the cement became hard when it dried, making the ball as solid as a bride's first cake.

A new cement has been perfected and a pellet which will resemble the 1942 ball in agility will be ready in two weeks. Ford Frick, president of the National league, said the second crop of baseballs would be put into play immediately upon their arrival.

Despite grumblings and protest from various players it was a home-made experiment by Warren Giles, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds and a member of the committee which approved the new ball, that brought action.

Giles took a half dozen of 1943 balls and a similar number of 1942 balls and the top of the stadium in Crosley field and dropped them, in pairs, to the concrete apron below. The groundkeeper, standing near by, reported the 1943 models bounced only three-fourths as high as those of 1942.

Homers Are Out

More scientific test at New York yesterday brought virtually the same results. The laboratory tests showed the 1943 agate was only 74.1 per cent as "alive" as its immediate ancestor.

That meant that a 400-foot home run of a year ago was a 300-foot put out this spring.

"Ironically," Giles' Cincinnati club stood to gain more than any other club from a dead ball. The Reds again have a potent pitching staff—good enough to hold the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals without a run in 21 innings—but the Cincinnati attack still consists of a walk, a steal, a passed ball and a punt.

In yesterday's lone fray, the A's hopped on Joe Dobson for eight of their nine hits in the first six innings for four runs while Russ Christopher and Luman Harris combined to blank the Red Sox. Christopher started but was yanked in the eighth after issuing two consecutive walks.

The only extra-base hits were a pair of doubles by Bobby (Slamming) Doerr of the Soxers.

Flashes of Life

SEASON'S GREETINGS

Denver (AP)—Two girls skipped across the street to police headquarters.

A strange youth, they complained had grabbed them and kissed them. Police Capt. E. S. Davis singled out a 17-year-old who wiped sheepishly at lipstick smudges on his face and confessed:

"It was such a beautiful spring day and all. . . . I just couldn't resist. . . ."

SPITE

Idaho Falls, Idaho (AP)—Farmer Art Giles trucked a load of potatoes to Los Angeles, expecting to get $300—then he met a man ("he looked like a black market operator") who offered $500.

That made Giles pretty mad, he admitted.

So he donated most of the load to a War Bond auction.

V IS FOR VINCENT

Hamilton, Mo. (AP)—Vincent Williams, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Williams, found a new mystery—some strange white boxes.

Vincent's father heard the disturbance near the beehives, and found bees swirling about the boy's head and crawling in streams from his collar. Only a few stung him.

It was several weeks ago that Vincent stuck his head into a wagon wheel.

They had to saw out the spokes to release him.

TRAVELING MEN

St. Donatus, Ia. (AP)—Matt Thoma, driving into the Irvin Muchow garage after a long trip, complained he couldn't shut off his car lights.

Muchow lifted the automobile hood and found a Leyhorn hen sitting contentedly in the splash pan alongside the motor.

When the hen, which apparently knocked a wire loose and caused a short circuit was removed from the car Muchow found an egg.

Wants Wallace To Return Lost Yo-Yo

Bridgeport, Conn., April 24 (AP)—Daniel Fairchild Calhoun, 13, wants Vice President Henry A. Wallace to get back the yo-yo a guard in the United States senate took from him a month ago.

Young Calhoun, who says the guard made him take the toys from his pocket, noted his name and address and promised to return the yo-yo, has written to Wallace about his troubles.

Daniel's tale came to light Thursday.

The guard noticed a bulge in one of his pockets, he said, and demanded the yo-yo. Dan's explanation that it was only a Japanese toy didn't help.

"There's no Japanese toy goes in this gallery," young Calhoun said the guard told him.

The boy had accompanied his father, Philo Calhoun, to Washington to see Thurman Arnold, a friend of the family, sworn in as Judge of the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I'm writing this letter in thanks for the copies of the Times I have been receiving. Mail call, as many other soldiers I believe will agree, is one popular call in the Army. I really can't explain how news concerning your home town helps your spirits.

South Carolina is almost all sand and sky. The climate is very changeable, cool mornings and evenings while it is boiling hot during the afternoon.

Our camp is about eight miles from Columbia but we are lucky to have transportation to all points of this city.

We have been very busy lately, classes, drilling, and we have just come off the rifle range, where we spent three days trying to make another Sergeant York.

Our outfit has the job of getting gas to all outfits at all places, and at all times.

I see from the papers that Gettysburg is very busy these days with all the air cadets.

There are about 20 boys here from Gettysburg and when we get together we really raise Cain. All of us are doing our best and hoping that we may soon meet The Gettysburg Times on our front porch at home as we wish to.

In closing I wish to thank you again for The Gettysburg Times.

Yours very truly,
PVT. W. T. TIMMINS, JR.

Takes Rooster To Aleutian Islands

An Aleutian Islands Base, April 17 (Delayed) (AP)—An Army captain at this frigid base confided to another officer, "I've got the Aleutian willies. I keep thinking I hear a rooster crowing."

He did, too. It was Pete, brought here six months ago by Sgt. Charles W. Haney of Latrobe, Pa., and probably the only domestic fowl within a thousand miles.

Haney says Pete doesn't mind the airplanes zooming overhead but keeps a sharp lookout for ravens, his mortal enemies.

BRUNO CASE IS BEFORE BOARD

Harrisburg, April 24 (AP)—The State Pardon board considered Friday a plea of young Victor Bruno for commutation of the life sentence given his 54-year-old father Philip for the Kelayres election eve slayings of 1934.

"You are my hope, my mother's hope and my father's life," asserted Victor in telling of his impending induction into the army.

He said that his mother would be left without support upon his departure and that he knows of no one opposed to commuting his father's sentence.

Philip Bruno, his brother, Joseph Bruno, one-time Republican leader of Schuylkill county, and four other members of the Bruno family were convicted in the slaying of five marchers in a Democratic parade in the Kelayres mining town. Philip and Joseph were sentenced to life imprisonment. The others, convicted of second degree murder, were previously paroled.

The pardon board at an executive session refused commutation to Herbert Green, 41-year-old Philadelphia negro sentenced to be electrocuted early Monday morning at the Rockview penitentiary for killing Melinda Green and Joseph Cobb in January, 1942.

Made Valid Today

Philadelphia, April 24 (AP)—Want to do a little last-minute shopping for Easter food?

You can do it today, the regional OPA office announced, with G, H and J blue ration stamps.

They weren't to become valid until Monday but the OPA said it advanced the date for the benefit of any wives running out of stamps because of holiday buying.

AGED ATTORNEY DIES

York, Pa., April 24 (AP)—Nevin M. Wanner, 92, former district attorney and common court pleas judge, died last night after an illness of more than two years. He was admitted to the York county bar in 1873.

PUBLIC SALE

OF REAL AND PERSONAL

PROPERTY

SATURDAY, MAY 1, 1943

AT 1:00 P. M.

The undersigned will offer for sale the property of the late M. L. Sprankle located in Liberty and Hamilton Townships, Adams County, Pennsylvania, containing 103 acres, more or less, as more particularly described in deed from John Creager and wife to Marshal Sprankle dated March 21, 1922, and recorded in Adams County Deed Book, Volume 94, Page 49, and being presently improved with an 11-room brick house, good barn, chicken house and numerous other outbuildings. This farm is located at the foot of the Sunshine Trail and is in excellent shape. Inspection of the premises can be made at any time. Terms will be made known at day of sale.

At the same time the undersigned will offer for sale certain personal property, including one roan mare colt, two years old, having the making of a fine mare; ten head of cattle, consisting of three milk cows, two of which have had calves and one of which will be fresh at the time of sale, two close-springing heifers, three yearling heifers, and two stock bulls fit for service; a lot of laying hens; household goods, including a Columbia range, a cook stove and a chunk stove; bureau; wash stand; desk and bookcase combined; steel cupboard; two 9x12 Congoleum rugs; two small bedside rugs; rocking chair; bed mattress; pots and pans and other articles of household use; grindstone; crosscut saw; new pole ax; new hatchet; galvanized tub; about 1,000 wood shingles; forks, chairs; 10-gallon milk can; buckets and other farm tools. Terms cash.

MUST SERVE 25 YEAR SENTENCE

Philadelphia, April 24 (AP)—

Two New Jersey men found guilty of committing a bank robbery at Stroudsburg, Pa., must serve the 25-year sentences imposed by Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson at Scranton last November 2.

The Third United States Circuit Court of Appeals dismissed as "without merit yesterday the appeals of Raffael Greco, of near Hoboken, and William Vasilick, of Newark, who contended they were not adequately identified by robbery witnesses at their trial and that the jury was "prejudiced" against them because of testimony that they had used aliases.

Greco was identified at the trial as the man who waved a sub

An Evening Thought

Many men and women enjoy popular esteem, not because they are now, but because they are not—hamfort.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

TOIL AND AGONY

Out of the rain of it
And the sleet's sharp sting,
The first harsh pain of it
Comes blossoming.

Out of the dirt of it
And the dull, hard hours,
The ache and the hurt of it
Come fruit and flowers.

Out of the work of it
With plow and spade,
The long, dull lark of it,
Are harvests made.

Out of the clash of it
And war's dangers braved,
The fire and flash of it,
Freedom is saved!

FREE SOULS

Most of us are outside slaves to the thoughts and opinions of others, and inside slaves to the warped opinions of ourselves.

What a free soul that one who has the will and courage to mingle in life taking its scars, but refusing its unjust and unreasonable demands!

We no more than make a move, than we ask: "What will people say?" What do they say when you get into trouble, when you have the good fortunes of yesterday swept from under your feet? What do they say when you walk alone, an apparent failure, yet with the golden heritage of respect and a brave heart all intact?

Is it not better and more sensible to ask ourselves, when at the many crossroads of life, and when confusion arises: How is my decision going to affect me, my ideals, my purposes, my self-respect—my outlook on life?

We can't live our lives with "other" people. God gave to each of his human creations a unique birth in which to carve an entity that also might become unique. Let other people say what they will. Ours it is to think, speak, and act boldly, with honesty, from the mind and heart. There can be no other path to reasonable happiness or personal satisfaction.

We should work hardest to please the censor within ourselves!

The writer who works most to please himself is sure to please others. This is equally true of the painter, the builder or of any artist who strives for expression. Trying to please oneself is the surest way to displease oneself.

Shakespeare understood when he wrote: "To thine own self be true," and Burton understood when he wrote: "From none but self expect applause."

What will people say? Never mind what they will, or won't say! It isn't important. Live your life, and keep it—unique!

Milday May Wear
Homemade Corsage

Philadelphia, April 24 (AP)—Many a young lady will have to pick her own corsage in the countryside if she wants one for Easter.

Florists report the demand 75 per cent higher than last year although the supply—because of the late spring, the labor shortage and the lack of bulbs from abroad—is off 50 per cent.

The price, to those who can get flowers, is 50 to 200 per cent above last Easter's.

SAVE DOG—BOY DROWNS

Camden, N. J., April 24 (AP)—When Andrew Loeffler, 7, fell into Cooper river yesterday his dog jumped in after him. Coast guardsman Carl Orant saw the dog struggling in the water and rescued it. The boy, unnoticed, drowned 20 feet away.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO

Lippy, the Magician, Entertains Roosevelt Kiddies in White House: Sissie Dall, six, and her little brother, Buzzie, two and one-half years old, grandchildren of President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, were "spell-bound" and "thrilled" when John D. Lippy, Jr., well known magician, pulled Easter bunnies out of a high silk hat, and in many other ways entertained the youngsters by his feats of magic.

Lippy was one of the feature attractions at the annual White House Easter Monday egg-rolling affair.

Ed Barbehenn Receives Photo of Ex-President: Edward Barbehenn, North Stratton street, received an autographed photograph from ex-President Herbert Hoover.

The autograph reads: "To Edward Barbehenn, with kindest regards of Herbert Hoover."

U. S. Goes Off Gold Standard: (By The Associated Press) The first official departure of the United States from the gold standard in more than 50 years was felt throughout the world on Saturday.

New York, April 20—Trading on the New York stock exchange was the wildest since the palmy days of 1929 and the high speed stickers geared to handle six million shares a day dropped nearly half an hour behind actual business on the floor.

Mrs. Stover Is Married Friday: The marriage of Mrs. Gayella K. Stover, Springs avenue, to Dr. Harry C. Stover, Harrisburg, took place Friday morning at 11 o'clock in the parsonage of the Zion Lutheran church, Harrisburg. The Rev. Dr. S. Winfield Herman performed the ceremony.

New Dining Rooms Are Opened Here: Announcement is made of the opening of the T-Xchange dining rooms on the second floor of the T-Xchange, Baltimore street, Mrs. Grace Codori, proprietress.

Special private dining rooms have been fitted out, available to bridge and tea parties and for special dance-intermission parties.

Name College Field Here for "Bud" Renshaw: The memory of Charles "Bud" Renshaw, prominent athlete at Gettysburg college, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident April 15, 1932, will linger forever on the local college campus following action by the Gettysburg college athletic council.

The council voted unanimously to name the football practice field, adjacent to Memorial field, "Renshaw field," out of respect to the memory of "one of our most prominent and active athletes."

Marylander Goes to Cuba: Washington, April 22—Sumner Welles, of Oxon Hill, Maryland, appointed an assistant secretary of state only two weeks ago, was promoted by the President to be ambassador to Cuba Friday.

In making this appointment Mr. Roosevelt passed over Francis White, also of Maryland, and John Cudahy, of Wisconsin.

Ubiquitous Mr. Bullitt Given Place in State Department: Washington, April 21—William Christian Bullitt, of Philadelphia, Thursday was appointed by President Roosevelt a special assistant to the secretary of state and took the oath of office. What his duties are to be has not yet been determined.

It was Mr. Bullitt whose travels to Europe last winter so excited the suspicions of Senator Arthur Robinson (R-Ind.), that he asked the state department to get a special report on his activities.

Harner—Good: Miss Virginia Harner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Harner, near Bonneville, and Charles Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Good, of Mt. Pleasant township, were united in marriage Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at the Grace Lutheran church parsonage, East Middle street, by the Rev. J. M. Myers.

Used Car Market in New Location: Announcement is made of the removal of the Bream and Plank used car market from Chambersburg street to the property formerly occupied by the Gott and Garvin garage, Buford avenue.

Glenn Bream and Gerald Plank, co-owners of the establishment, announced a formal opening for Saturday.

Personal: J. Herbert Raymond and Robert Bell, co-owners of the Bel-Ray dog kennel, near Hunterstown, returned from Baltimore Monday, where one of their entries won third prize in the puppy bird dog class at the Baltimore field trial meet.

Mrs. Preston Tate, Carlisle street, has gone to New York city for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Ingersoll.

Roland A. Martin, now stationed at the United States Naval training base at Norfolk, Virginia, is spending a sixteen-day furlough with his mother, Mrs. Paul Martin, Lincoln avenue.

Mrs. George Miller, West street, has returned from a visit with friends at Greenville, North Carolina.

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

Getting down to brass tacks is better than running over them with wartime tires.

That little ammeter is capable of some odd tricks and it is well to be hep to them. It may, for instance, oscillate as if something had gone haywire in the electrical system, when it is merely trying to tell you that the battery is charged. Now should the battery be a bit down, and you happen to switch on the radio or a special driving light that consumes a lot of current, don't be surprised if the ammeter suddenly shows charge. You would naturally expect it to show greater discharge, but the truth is that the voltage and current regulation system has stepped up the generator's output.

In Case of Invasion

Australian motorists have been given some special advice as to how to leave their cars should the enemy make a forced landing and come into possession of the available equipment. Point one is to take off the distributor and all the ignition wiring. Then, if there still is time enough for it, the bottom of the fuel tank and the radiator should be perforated. Why it would be of any advantage to take off the carburetor after this neat piece of butchery I can't see, but a leading motor magazine of Australia recommends it along with deflating and puncturing the tires. The enemy sure would have its hands full with a prize catch of such lemons.

You can use the battery itself to test the electrical system for short circuiting. The trick is to make sure that you have switched off all of the car's electrical gadgets and that the ground strap is attached. Then if there is sparking when you touch the other cable to the battery terminal you'll know there is a "short" in the system. But be sure to check the fuses and to see that the stop-light switch isn't stuck.

Shows Up Loose Flywheel

Testing the engine for a loose flywheel may seem to involve a lot of skill and equipment, but the job is easily done by anyone who knows how to run the engine. The trick is to accelerate the engine, switch it off and then switch it on again when it has almost come to rest. The effect of this is to give the flywheel a jolt sufficient to show up any looseness that may exist. When the ignition is switched on again during this test a loose flywheel will offer a distinct knock.

What was the longest wheelbase ever used on an American stock car? One of my readers asked this question, and I think it is an interesting venture in automobile history. My first thought was Locomobile, but on checking up I find that the 142-inch wheelbase of this job, and of the Cunningham as well, was exceeded by the Stearns-Knight which topped it at 145 inches.

Packard's "745" job went a little farther to 145½ inches, and Cadillac V-12 added another half inch. I thought I had reached the limit with Pierce-Arrow's "1285" job which ran to 147 inches but kept digging until I located the 1935 Cadillac V-16 which seemed to have been the daddy of them all with a wheelbase than ran to 154 inches. If you know of anything longer, without running into foreign makes, I'd like to know of it.

Can't Get Started?

If the starter system on your car involves a solenoid for button control there's an easy way to prove whether your failure to get under way has anything to do with this electrical device. Just run a heavy insulated cable from one of the solenoid's terminals to the other and have someone touch the starter button with ignition switched on. If the starter-motor commences cranking you'll know that the solenoid has been kicking up.

Looking over a chart that gives the mileages at which certain parts of the car should be treated to attention I note that many of the things mentioned are not considered at all by the average owner. Do you, for instance, lubricate the windshield wiper shafts every 6,000 miles? Or check the clutch pedal clearance at these points? Every 12,500 miles the carburetor should be overhauled. Have you done so, or is that faithful part still expected to give good results after years of neglect? I see where you can save a lot of headaches from steering by remembering to take out all unnecessary steering play at the same time you overhaul the carburetor. That's also a good time to repack the universal joints and check over the car's locks.

Keep These in Mind

Speed in shifting gears will save gasoline, but don't confuse this with the wasteful practice of racing through the gears. The thing that saves is checking loss of momentum between gears, not the speed you travel when the car is being accelerated.

Just as we were reminded to keep the gas tank filled in winter, to prevent condensation, so in warmer weather we should be careful to allow room for expansion. Don't leave the car in the hot sun. Park it on level ground to prevent spillage from the filler pipe.

A letter from a valued reader makes these records of 75,000 miles look like last year's bird's nest. He has driven a 1930 job just a little over 200,000 miles and says it's still going along in good shape with a bonnet that still has a bit of sparkle. The engine was overhauled at 55,000 miles, but since then it hasn't been unbuttoned. The explanation? Nothing dramatic, unless you are one to get a kick out of common sense. He says that he watches the car like a hawk and that he always has anything out of the way attended to immediately. In this way the car never has a chance to develop serious trouble.

State Draft Office Changes Quarters

Harrisburg, April 24 (AP)—State headquarters of the Pennsylvania Selective Service system will be moved to the second floor of the Liquor Control Board building at the capitol next Tuesday, April 27, Lieut. Col. George H. Hafer, acting state director announced Friday.

The headquarters staff has been occupying offices on the fifth floor of the main capitol building.

The change was approved by Governor Martin and national headquarters to provide the state headquarters staff with adequate office facilities, Col. Hafer explained.

TRUCK DRIVING COURSES ASKED IN 400 SCHOOLS

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK

Harrisburg, April 24 (AP)—The state Department of Public Instruction today asked more than 400 Pennsylvania high schools to consider offering courses in truck driving and maintenance to students who expect induction into the armed forces.

Dr. G. Franklin Stover, educational consultant, said applications had been distributed to schools which have shown the most interest in the high school Victory Corps, pre-flight aviation training and other courses designed to aid the war effort.

The pre-induction driver education course is sponsored by the Army's Office of the Quartermaster General.

Lessen Army Task

"The Army is now spending valuable time in giving instruction in fundamentals of driving which have long been taught successfully in many schools," Dr. Stover asserted.

"It is obvious that if the high schools and colleges provide this fundamental instruction, the Army's task will be lessened."

The Army recommended a minimum of 45 instruction periods be set aside for the course and urged that training be given in the last two years of high school, preferably in the senior year.

Topics covered include the wartime role of vehicles, driver qualifications, vehicle construction and operation, maintenance, principles of driving, rules of the road, map reading, motor marches and traffic efficiency.

WLB SUMMONS NEGOTIATORS IN MINE FUSS

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Neither President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers nor any of his associates showed up today as the War Labor Board formally began consideration of the union's wage dispute with soft coal operators.

BY HAROLD W. WARD
Washington, April 24 (AP)—Bituminous operators and United Mine Workers officials, deadlocked in New York negotiations over a new contract, were summoned before the War Labor Board today for a closed conference, but John L. Lewis, UMW president, left the board guessing whether he would attend.

Despite Lewis' silence, the board went ahead with its plans—expecting the operators, at least, to show up. The latter left the month-old conferences in New York yesterday to come to the capital.

The session got underway against a distant background of mounting coal troubles. At Cleveland, Republic Steel corporation officials said strikers affecting the firm's western Pennsylvania coal properties had spread to a fourth mine and soon would handicap war steel production at its Cleveland, Youngstown, Warren, Canton and Massillon plants.

Hope for Pact Wanes

Hopes of speedy settlement appeared waning. Company spokesmen said no demands accompanied the walkouts except at one strip mine, where a wage controversy was cited as the cause. They said the company had agreed to requested rates but that UMW workers rejected a stipulation requiring Labor Board approval.

Joseph Yablonsky, International board member of UMW's district 5, said in Pittsburgh that even if the new contract, "things don't look any too good to me now for a settlement."

The board called the meeting to discuss preliminary procedure for taking over the stalemated negotiations. It also planned to pass on Lewis' demands for $2 a day increase for his 650,000 bituminous workers, portal-to-portal pay within the mines, recognition of the union as the representative of supervisory personnel at the mines as well as the coal-diggers.

Lewis has balked at submitting his case to the board, challenging its jurisdiction and opposing the "Little Steel" formula by which it has restricted wage increases to 15 percent above January 1, 1941 levels. In the bituminous case, that yardstick would deprive them of the $2 raise.

LT. BERKHEIMER FINDS NATIVES APPRECIATIVE

First Lieut. Chaplain George H. Berkheimer, on leave as pastor of the Arendtsville Lutheran church charge, in a letter to The Gettysburg Times, tells of the natives of New Guinea acquiring "western" habits and of their deep appreciation shown for the slightest interest in their welfare.

The letter follows:

April 8, 1943

Dear Sir:

Thank you very kindly for continuing to send the Times to me. Even though I have moved to a new APO since writing my last letter the paper is reaching me here. My tour of duty both in Australia and with the Corps of Military Police has ended. The new work is in the Corps of Chaplains (where I really belong) and the assignment is in the New Guinea area.

This is a truly beautiful spot. It has its unattractive side such as a super abundance of mosquitoes and ants. The roads are a series of ruts and holes. You go bouncing from one to another and it is a question as to which will give way first, the bolts in the Jeep or your kidneys from their moorings. Fortunately the Jeeps are built very sturdily. Time alone will tell about the construction of our kidneys. The heat is also a factor that is not so agreeable but as the Base Chaplain just remarked, "George, it is pretty hot, but we can take it." He is in the low sixties so if he can stand it certainly those of us who are only half his age should not complain. From the beginning of the year to the end the temperature ranges between 85 and 90 degrees. That in itself would not be bad but the humidity stays at about 75 per cent all the time. The boys from the southern states especially the negroes can stand up under these conditions much better than the ones from the north.

You soon become accustomed to all these things and take them in stride. That is particularly true of those who really want to see the bright side and there definitely is such a side. The sea in its many shades of blue and green, the small islands with their lush vegetation, the cocoanut palms waving lazily in the breeze, these are just a few of the works of nature that make you pause and marvel at the greatness of God.

Of still greater interest are the natives. They are rapidly becoming civilized. I mean they are learning to smoke cigarettes and to drink "jungle juice." They are even taking to wearing clothes. But back of their attempt to imitate their so-called superior white man (the big boss, as they call us) there is a genuine meekness and innocence that defies all attempts at westernization.

That does not mean that they are still ignorant. Many of them are well educated and speak a very decent English. They are the product of the various mission schools. Missions are conducted on the island by the London Missionary society and by the Roman Catholic church. A converted native can be distinguished from a pagan by his hair. The pagan is still the fuzzy-wuzzy whereas the Christian cuts his hair to match one of our many styles. The pagan also takes part in native dances on their festival days. For the Christian dancing is taboo.

It has been my privilege to make several friends among the natives simply by doing small favors for them. They are deeply appreciative of the slightest interest taken in their welfare and they show it by being very loyal to you. They like to be fathered and expect you to look after them.

In my next letter I shall speak of the work of the Chaplain in New Guinea and of the interest of the men in religious matters.

Sincerely,

First Lt. Chap. G. H. Berkheimer

RAF Sows Mines In Enemy Waters

London, April 24 (AP)—The violent air war over the European continent tapered off last night as activities of the RAF apparently were limited to the laying of mines in enemy waters and Britain enjoyed a quiet night, free of enemy raiders.

An air ministry communique said two British aircraft were missing from the mine-laying mission.

Thursday the RAF attacked railways, shipping and other military targets in raids over France, Belgium and the Netherlands. Fighting planes damaged an E-boat and an armed trawler off the coast of Holland yesterday in other attacks.

OPA Lifts Truck Recap Limit For May

Washington, April 24 (AP)—OPA directed ration boards Friday to remove on May 1 quota restrictions on recapping truck tires.

The agency said after consultation with rubber director William M. Jeffers, who said recapping materials were available for the program, that it was better to "provide recapping as soon as needed rather than risk ruin of some casings that might be driven beyond the recapping point."

The attempts of a newspaper correspondent to expose the activities of foreign spies in this country give rise to the hilarious doings in Samuel Goldwyn's newest comedy production, "They Got Me Covered."

The RKO Radio release co-stars Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour as a pair of news syndicate employees, Miss Lamour as the manager of the syndicate's bureau in Washington, Hope as a foreign correspondent who is in bad with his boss and is anxious to redeem himself with a big story.

WEDNESDAY

One of the time-honored pictures of the year, "The Young Mr. Pitt," arrives Wednesday at the Majestic theatre, starring Robert Donat. A 20th Century-Fox release, the film tells the intimate story of the man whose fiery deeds led a great people to a world-saving victory. It has been hailed as the "story of yesterday that tells of today." Featured are Robert Morley, Phyllis Calvert and John Mills. Carol Reed directed the film which was produced by Edward Black.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY

Harry Carey, who plays one of the featured roles in "Air Force," Gig Young, Warner Bros. featured player currently enacting the role of co-pilot in "Air Force," first film to depict accurately the hardships faced by our air arm in South Pacific waters, is playing his part with a vengeance. "Air Force" opens Thursday at the Majestic theatre.

Gig knows too well the tragic story of too little and too late. His father-in-law and close pal, James Beverly Stapler, is today a prisoner of war because of that dramatic condition among our far-flung outposts air fighters.

John Garfield, Harry Carey and George Tobias head the all-star cast.

Rescued Cat Has "Victory" Kittens

Fort Pierce, Fla., April 24 (AP)—Even the cats provide portents of Allied victory nowadays.

Witness the case of "Torpedo," a mink cat rescued by a Fort-Pierce Coast Guard crew from a torpedoed tanker and presented to the Amphibious training base headquarters here.

"Torpedo" has given birth to quintuplets and on the back of one of the kittens are clearly discernable three dots and a dash—the International Morse code for "V," and everybody knows what "V" stands for.

WRITE HIM Today

A Letter from Home is what He Wants MOST!

NOTHING means more to our fighting men, or does as good a job of boosting their morale, as news from the folks back home. Time and again they express a desire for letters . . . and more letters. It's a terrible thing, when mail is distributed in the training camp or in some remote corner of the world where our boys are fighting our battles, to stand there . . . empty handed.

Don't let your relative or friend in the armed forces down. Write him today! Write him often! And give him the news . . . not the blues. Give him the latest on the old High School gang . . . does he know that so-and-so's joined the Marines . . . Fido had pups last week . . . you and the kids have started work in the Victory garden.

Write him today and . . . write him often! He'll appreciate it more than anything else you can do.
